gallantry and good con as an officer in said army and lt gen 29 March 47 for eminent ser in the late war with Mex the day on which the U S forces under his command captured Vera Cruz and the battle of San Juan de Ulloa; presented with a gold medal under resolution of cong 3 Nov 14 with suitable emblems and devices in testimony of the high sense entertained by cong of his dist ser in the successive conflicts of Chippewa and Niagara and of his uniform gallantry and good con in sustaining the reputation of the arms of the U S; resolution of cong 9 March 48:

"That the thanks of Congress be, and they are hereby, presented to Maj.-Gen. Winfield Scott, Commander-in-Chief of the army in Mexico, and through him to the officers and men of the regular and volunteer corps under him for their uniform gallantry and good conduct conspicuously displayed at the siege and capture of the city of Vera Cruz and Castle of San Juan de Ulloa, 29th March, 1847, and the successive battles of Cerro Gordo 19th and 20th April, and the victories achieved in front of the city of Mexico 8th, 11th, 12th and 13th September, and the capture of the metropolis 14th September 1847, in which the Mexican troops, greatly superior in numbers, and with every advantage of position, were in every conflict signally defeated by the American arms.

"Sec. 2. That the President of the United States be, and is hereby, requested to cause to be struck a gold medal with devices emblematical of the series of brilliant victories achieved by the army and presented to Maj.-Gen. Winfield Scott as a testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of his valor, skill and judicious conduct in the memorable campaign of 1847."

This act recognises the force authorized by the resolution of October 3, 1787, which consisted of 700 men, then to be raised for three years, together with two companies of artillery already in service, organized into, to wit: One infantry regiment of eight companies and one battalion of artillery of four companies, an Adjutant, Quartermaster and Paymaster to be taken from the subalterns of the line. (The Majors are no longer required to command companies.)

* Taken from the line and excluded from the total commissioned and aggregate.

Under this act the infantry of the United States was fixed at 25 regiments and organized as above. One riding-master was added to the regiment of light dragoons raised by the act of January 11, 1812, and one Surgeon's Mate to the regiment previously raised. One master of the sword was allowed to each. The military establishment authorized by law previous to April 12, 1806, and the additional military force raised by virtue of the act of April 12, 1808, are incorporated, and promotions now take place throughout each line respectively. The act of March 3, 1812, establishes a quartermaster's department, to consist of 1 Quartermaster-General with the rank, pay and emoluments of a Brigadier-General, 5 Deputy Quartermasters and as many assistants as the service might require, the deputies and assistants to be taken from the line or not. It appears that both these grades were taken from the line except 1 deputy and 4 assistants. One Commissary-General of Purchases was authorized, with as many Deputy Commissaries as the service might require, and provides for "4 conductors of artillery" (to be allowed the pay and emoluments of a Lieutenant of artillery). Military agents and assistants discontinued. The act of April 22, 1812, makes further provision for the corps of engineers by the addition of 2 Captains, 2 First and Second Lieutenants, with 1 Paymaster from the line, 4 Sergeants, 4 Corporals, 1 teacher of music, 4 musicians, 19 artificers and 63 men, to be styled a company of "bombardiers, sappers and miners." The cadets in service, or to be appointed, were limited to 250, and to be attached, at the discretion of the President of the United States, to the Military Academy. Thus Cadets are omitted in this table.

The act of May 14, 1812, establishes an Ordnance Department, to consist of a Commissary-General eral of Ordnance, with the rank, pay and emoluments of a Colonel of infantry, 1 Assistant Commissary-General, 4 Deputy Commissaries and as many Assistant Deputy Commissaries of Ordnance as might be necessary.

The act of May 16, 1812, empowers the President to appoint as many District Paymasters as the service might require, and a Paymaster to each regiment, with the pay and emoluments of a Captain of the regiment to which they belonged. The District Paymaster might be taken from the line or otherwise. It appears 10 of them were not of the line. Secretary to the commanding General, Sub-Inspectors to each brigade and 12 drivers of artillery to each company of light artillery were also provided for. As many Hospital Surgeons and Mates are authorized by the law of January 11, 1812, as the service might require, but the number not being defined they are set down according to the act of April 12, 1806.

The act of February 24, 1812, authorizes the appointment of a saddler and farrier to each company of light artillery when mounted.

The forage-masters were not to exceed one to each brigade, and the deputy barrack-masters one to each separate barrack or cantonment. The corps of artificers might be taken from the privates of the army by authority of the commanding General, or from citizens by the superintendent, the superintendent to be appointed by the President. The Commissary-General of Ordnance was authorized from time to time to employ as many wheelwrights, carriage-makers, blacksmiths and laborers as the public service might in his judgment require.

The act of July 5, 1813, provides that 5 of the regiments of infantry raised by the act of January 20, 1813, might be, at the discretion of the President, enlisted for and during the war, and limited, as to service, to the defense of the seaboard of the United States, or such parts thereof as the President might elect and determine. The 2d act of August 2, 1813, authorizes the appointment of 5 additional Deputy Commissaries of Ordnance. The act of January 28, 1814, empowered the President to cause to be enlisted, for the term of 5 years or during the war, 14 of the regiments of infantry authorized by the act of January 20, 1813, or such number of them, or the troops composing the same, as in his opinion would best promote the public service. The act of February 10, 1814, provides for 8 additional regiments of riflemen, and increases the companies of the regiment authorized by the act of April 12, 1808, to 90 men.

The act of March 30, 1814, provides that the 1st, 2d and 3d regiments of artillery be formed into one corps and organized into 12 battalions and 48 companies, one of the Second Lieutenants of each company to act as conductor of artillery for said companies. That, in lieu of the second regiment of dragoons then in service, there should be organized one regiment, to consist of 8 troops. As many Assistant Apothecaries were authorized as the service might require, and it is further enacted that "promotions shall be made through the whole army in its several lines of light artillery, light dragoons, artillery, infantry and riflemen respectively." That in no case shall District Paymasters or Quartermasters of any grade be taken from the line of the Army. The last section of this act enacts "that the officers of the volunteer corps authorized by the act of February 24, 1814, be entitled to promotion in the line of the Army, and that the President of the United States, with the advice and consent of the Senate, be authorized to make all necessary appointments, and to fill all vacancies which may happen in the same." Under the authority granted by this section 4 additional regiments of infantry were raised from volunteer corps, making 48 regiments. Two of these were discontinued May 12, 1814, and the other 46 are given in the Army Register of January 1, 1815. Military storekeepers authorized by the act of March 8, 1813, number unlimited.

By the act of July 26, 1813, 10 companies of sea fencibles were authorized to be employed, as well on land as on water, for the defense of the ports and harbors of the United States. The acts of January 2 and July 1, 1812, authorizing 7 companies of rangers, expired August 2, 1813, according to the tenor of said acts.

The two commissions held by these officers are of unequal grades, and hence they are not affected by the 7th section of the act of June 18, 1848.

The Adjutants of artillery and infantry (12) and all the regimental Quartermasters (15) being taken from the subalterns and accounted for in their several regiments as belonging to companies, to avoid counting them twice, are excluded as regimental staff officers from the columns of "total commissioned officers" and "aggregate" of their respective regiments.

The 3d regiment of artillery having two principal musicians enlisted under the act of August 3, 1847, retains them under the act of June 19, 1848. When by casualties their places become vacant they are not to be filled.

One of the 4 Assistant Adjutant-Generals (Majors by brevet), 2 of the 6 Assistant Adjutant-Generals (Captains by brevet), 6 of the 10 Assistant Quartermasters and 2 of the 8 Commissionaries of Subistence, being also to regiments and being reported in the strength thereof to the Adjutant-General's Department, are excluded as staff officers from the columns "total commissioned" and "aggregate" of their respective departments. The regimental and staff commissions held by these officers are of general grade, and hence they are not affected by the provisions of the 7th section of the act of July 15, 1862. The like remark is applicable to the Judge Advocate of the Army, who is a Captain in the Ordnance Department.

The 10 Assistant Quartermasters being taken from regiments and reported in the strength thereof to the Adjutant-General's Department are excluded as staff officers from the columns "total commissioned" and "aggregate."

The 10 Assistant Quartermasters of artillery and infantry (10) and all the regimental Quartermasters (10), being taken from regiments and accounted for in their several regiments as belonging to companies, are excluded as regimental staff officers from the columns "total commissioned" and "aggregate."

The 20 Assistant Quartermasters of the act of April 22, 1812, "making further provisions for the corps of engineers," and the 20 Second Lieutenants is allowed to every company. The number authorized by the act of April 22, 1812, section 2, "providing for the organization of the Ordnance Department," is the number of Ordnance Sergeants cannot exceed "1 for each military post." The number of Ordnance Sergeants is 10.

The 10 Assistant Quartermasters of artillery being equipped as light artillery are authorized by the act of April 22, 1812, section 2, "44" instead of "42" privates per company. See act "to increase the number of the Army, etc.," approved June 17, 1860 (section 1).

(A) By the act of June 17, 1850, cited in the preceding note (section 2), the President is authorized, whenever the exigencies of the service require it, to increase to 74 the number of privates in any company "serving at the several military posts on the Western frontier and at remote and distant stations." In the table the minimum or fixed organization is given, viz., 50 privates to a company of dragoons, 64 to a company of light artillery and riflemen and 48 to the artillery and infantry. Under the authority conferred upon him, the President has directed that the number of privates be carried up to 74 in the several companies serving in the Peninsula of Florida, and on the Island of Key West in the same State, in Texas, New Mexico, California and Oregon, as well as those stationed at Forts Snelling and Ripley, on the Upper Mississippi; Fort Ridgely, on the Minnesota River; Fort Riley, on the Kansas; Fort Gibson, on the Arkansas; Fort Arbuckle, on the False Washita River, and Forts Kearny and Laramie, on the Oregon route, and the several companies engaged in the Sioux expedition, and all the companies of the 10th infantry, which regiment is destined for distant frontier service. There being at this time 181 companies serving at or en route to these distant stations, the authorized increase in the number of privates is 5,164, making the "total enlisted" (as the troops are now posted or en route) 16,823 and the "aggregate" 17,887. If all the companies belonging to "regiments" (196) were serving at the distant stations described, the additional number of privates allowed would then be 5,620, thus increasing the "total enlisted" to 17,278 and the "aggregate" to 18,818.

(C) By the act of March 3, 1853 (section 9), a Lieutenant of engineers, topographical engineers and ordnance having served "14 years' continuous service as Lieutenant" is entitled to promotion to the rank of Captain; but such promotion is not to increase the whole number of officers in either of said corps beyond the number previously fixed by law.

[illegible]

Assistant Adjutant-Generals (Captains), nineteen of the forty-five Assistant Commissaries of Subsistence (Captains), belonging to the sixteen Commissaries of Subsistence (Captains), belonging to their strength to avoid counting them twice, are excluded as "double commissioned" and "aggregate" of their respective departments held by these officers are of unequal grades, and hence as of the 7th section of the act of June 18, 1864.

Section 3. Assistant Quartermasters who shall have served as Captains are entitled to promotion as Majors. Three have been previously promoted three Quartermasters more and three Assistant Quartermasters otherwise have been the case.

Section 9. A Lieutenant of engineers, topographical engineers or surveyors' continuous service as Lieutenant," is entitled to promotion, but such promotion is not to increase the whole number of Lieutenants beyond the number previously fixed by law.

(d) The thirty-three Aides-de-Camp, being taken from regiments in the strength of which they are included to avoid counting them twice, are excluded as staff officers from the columns "total commissioned" and "aggregate."

(e) The number of additional Aides-de-Camp authorized by the act of August 5, 1861, is unlimited.

(f) The Adjutants of artillery and infantry (24), the Adjutant of the 6th cavalry, the battalion Adjutants of infantry (37), all the regimental Quartermasters (30) and all the battalion Quartermasters and Commissaries (30), being taken from the subalterns and accounted for in their several regiments as belonging to companies, are excluded as regimental staff officers from the columns "total commissioned" and "aggregate."

(g) Under the 4th section of the act of April 29, 1812, "making further provisions for the corps of engineers," and the 17th section of the act of March 3, 1847, for promoting distinguished non-commissioned officers, one Brevet Second Lieutenant is allowed to every company. The number authorized is consequently 443. There are none now attached to the Army.

ern frontier, and at remote and distant stations." In the table the minimum or fixed organization is given, viz, fifty privates to a company of dragoons, sixty-four to a company of light artillery and riflemen and forty-two to one of artillery and infantry. Under the authority vested in him, the President has directed that the number of privates be carried up to seventy-four in the several companies serving on the coast of Florida, in Kansas, Nebraska, Utah, Texas, New Mexico, California, Oregon and Washington Territory, as well as in those stationed at Fort Ripley, on the Upper Mississippi; Fort Ridgely, on the Minnesota River; Fort Arbuckle, on Wild Horse Creek; Fort Washita, on the False Washita River, or elsewhere in the Indian country west of the Mississippi. There being sixty-nine companies serving at or in en route to these distant stations, the authorized increase in the number of privates is 1,974, making the "total enlisted" (as the troops are now posted or en route) 39,238 and the "aggregate" 41,247. If all the companies belonging to the old "regiments" (196) were serving at the distant stations described, the additional number of privates allowed would then be 8,650, thus increasing the "total enlisted" to 47,888 and the "aggregate" to 49,898.

(A) Military Storekeepers in the Quartermaster's Department are entitled to the rank, pay and emoluments of Captains of cavalry.

(c) One additional Veterinary Surgeon is allowed to each of the 4 new regiments of cavalry authorized by this act, whose compensation shall be $100 per month. Being civilians, these additional Veterinary Surgeons are excluded from the columns "total enlisted" and "aggregate."

(e) The Secretary of War is authorized to appoint as many Hospital Stewards as the service may require. One Hospital Steward is also allowed to each military post. The total number of Hospital Stewards now in service is 489.

(b) The number of Ordnance Sergeants is limited to the number of military posts. There are now in service 115.

(m) The number of master wagoners and wagoners allowed in the Quartermaster's Department is limited only by the exigencies of the service.

(c) In the table the minimum organization of the artillery and infantry regiments is given, viz: Fifty companies of artillery (not mounted), with 4 Sergeants, 8 Corporals and 64 privates and 10 companies (mounted), with 8 Sergeants, 18 Corporals and 128 privates to a company, and 60 privates to each company of infantry. If all of the companies of the infantry arm were increased to their maximum strength (100 privates) the total number of privates in the infantry regiments would be 45,000. If, in addition to this, the artillery regiments were increased to the full complement allowed by law, the "total enlisted" would be 77,250 and the "aggregate" 80,258.

of 12,319,000 soldiers would be taken into an aggregate cemetery, to be appointed by the President, who shall have the power and emoluments of an Ordinance Secretary. Being civilians, they are excluded from the columns "total enlisted" and "aggregate." There are now 30 national cemeteries established.

Indian scouts to the number of 1,000 may be employed in the Territories and Indian country, who shall receive the pay and allowances of cavalry soldiers. Not being enlisted men, they are excluded from the table.

Organization of the Army—1874-1876.*30.—Organization of the Army under the Acts of June

(a) The Military Secretary and the 20 Aides-de-Camp, belonging also to corps or regiments in the strength of which they are included, are excluded as staff officers from the "total commissioned" and "aggregate."

(b) The several acts of Congress reorganizing the staff corps provides that no officer shall be reduced in rank or mustered out of service by reason of any provisions of said acts. The number allowed by law is given in the above table, and there is in service in excess of the authorized number as follows: 4 Colonels, Inspectors-General; 3 Majors, Judge Advocates; 1 Colonel, Assistant Quartermaster-General; 7 Captains, Military Storekeepers in Quartermaster's Department; 4 Captains, Medical Storekeepers and 11 Ordnance Storekeepers.

(c) The Adjutant and Quartermaster of the battalion of engineers, being included in the strength of their corps, are excluded as staff officers from the "total commissioned" and "aggregate."

(a) The Aides-de-Camp, belonging also to corps or regiments in the strength of which they are included, are excluded as staff officers from the "total commissioned" and "aggregate."

(b) The Adjutant and Quartermaster of the battalion of engineers, being included in the strength of their corps, are excluded as staff officers from the "total commissioned" and "aggregate."

(c) The several acts of Congress reorganizing the staff corps provide that no officer shall be reduced in rank or mustered out of service by reason of any provisions of said acts. The number allowed by law is given in the above table, and there are in excess of the authorized numbers as follows: 4 Military Storekeepers in the Quartermaster's Department, 3 Medical Storekeepers and 4 Ordnance Storekeepers. The Ordnance Storekeeper and Paymaster of the National Armory at Springfield has the rank, pay and emoluments of Major of cavalry, and all other storekeepers have the rank, pay and emoluments of Captains of cavalry. (Section 1, act March 2, 1867.)

(d) The act of July 6, 1864, making appropriations for the support of the Army for the year ending June 30, 1865, provides that no more appointments of Paymasters shall be made in the Pay Department until the number shall be reduced below 20 Majors, and thereafter the number of off-
